Friends of Embleton School

Parents are encouraged to take an active part in school life. The 'Friends of Embleton School' group host many social functions and fund-raising events throughout the year, both for the school and wider communities, and offer a great way for parents to interact and make new friends, or spend time with old ones.

Our children fulfil their potential as individuals...

Vincent Edwards is a small school with a warm and welcoming atmosphere, where each child has the opportunity to develop as an individual.

Our pupils are encouraged to reach their full potential within the context of a caring school community, where attitudes of mutual respect and responsibility form a central part of our ethos and Christian values lie at the heart of everything we do.

We have committed staff and small class sizes...

Vincent Edwards staff are well-qualified, experienced and thoroughly committed to education of the children in their care.

All our staff are given the time and resources to pinpoint and support the needs of every child, both academically and pastorally.

We offer a stimulating and creative curriculum in a truly unique location...

Whilst providing a strong focus on the national curriculum, Vincent Edwards is proud to offer so much more!

Outdoor learning is very important to us - we aim to inspire our pupils' imagination, develop their knowledge and enhance the curriculum by using the unique environment around us. Our close proximity to the beach, our role at the centre of a strong village community and our links with Holy Trinity Church, enable us to access a huge range of additional resources and provide our children with rounded and stimulating school experience.

Strong partnerships drive our success...

As a small school, we work closely with other schools locally and within the wider Alnwick Partnership. Support and expertise are shared across partnership schools, thereby driving up teaching standards, increasing expectations and constantly improving our children's educational outcomes.

Our children are well prepared for their next step and life beyond...

We embrace every opportunity to work with children throughout the area on joint educational visits, sporting competitions, drama productions and many other cross-curricular events. In doing so, we promote independent thought, increased confidence, and the ability to mix with a broad range of children from many different backgrounds.

Our pupils are actively encouraged to develop friendship groups outside their own school, particularly with children who will join them at the Duchess's High School, thereby smoothing the transition to secondary education.

Children leave Vincent Edwards School with a solid foundation in the academic and life skills they will need to cope with the next steps in their education and to be effective, caring and responsible members of our community.

You are very welcome to visit our school and talk with the Headteacher about any aspect of life at Vincent Edwards School.

Please call or email to arrange an appointment.
